

Hand Made Meat

Contributed by bagpuss

The website is a focal point for a range of producers all of whom share a common goal; to produce the very best quality meat using more traditional methods, replacing bulk foods with grass, industrial farming with better husbandry and growth hormones with time. It's our intention to bring you a range of every day meat at a higher quality than the High Street offers, at a price you want to pay, delivered direct to your door. Our producers are small farmers spread across the UK. They're in touch with the land and their flocks and herds. Which means you can be, too.

Have a look around. Find out about our producers , visit the shop and treat yourself to the finest meat available.<http://www.handmademeat.co.uk>